TAYLORSPOUT, Ky. -- One person is still missing after a tow boat capsized and sank on the Ohio River Sunday.

It happened after 4 p.m. near Taylorsport Drive and River Road in Taylorsport, Ky., across the river from Saylor Park, Ohio.

Two people were rescued and taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Florence, Ky. for treatment for hypothermia, but a third person remains unaccounted for.

Rescue crews on both sides of the Ohio River are searching for the victim who is described as a man with facial hair, wearing a green sweatshirt and an orange life vest.

"Agencies are involved from Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. Between the fire department, technical rescue, Boone County Sheriff's Department as well as Cincinnati agencies," said Michael Fronimos with the Hebron Fire Department.

Water rescue units from the US Coast Guard are also searching.

The National Weather Service forecasts the Ohio River is expected to exceed flood stage by Tuesday evening.
